Lasting Power of Attorney

Protect your decisions. Choose the people you trust to speak for you, before it is ever needed.

Why it matters

A Lasting Power of Attorney (LPA) is an official legal document in which you choose people you trust (your attorneys) to make decisions on your behalf if you ever become unable to make them yourself. Without one, your family may have to apply to the Court of Protection for a deputyship, a process that regularly takes many months and costs far more.

Property and Financial Affairs

Your attorneys can manage your bank accounts, pay bills, and deal with your home and investments.

Health and Welfare

Your attorneys can make decisions about your care, medical treatment, and where you live, but only once you cannot decide for yourself.
